P-500.6 Trainer and Assessor Policy and Procedure

Definitions:

Assessment means the process for gathering quality evidence in order to make a decision whether the candidate can perform a task against the benchmark requirements within the workplace.

Assessment process is a series of key steps in the assessment cycle, including agreeing outcomes with stakeholders and students, design and development of measures, tools and instruments, use of tools, and evaluation of the results of assessment for the purpose of continuous improvement of the assessment process.

Assessor means a qualified person who has the competencies required under the Standards for RTOs and relevant Training Package or Curriculum Qualification and who assess a learner's competence.

Assessment tool is a term used that contains all the assessment instructions, scenarios, questions, instruments used in conducting assessment as a form of evidence.

Formative Assessment – assessment assists and supports training by monitoring and advising clients of their performance and rate of progress against the training outcomes. This provides feedback to the client, supervisor and trainer on what development activities are needed to achieve the required competencies. Generally observations, portfolios and projects are used as common formative assessments as these take place over a period of time and in conjunction with training.

Principles of Assessment from the Standards 2015 - Table 1.8-1: Principle of Assessment

- Fairness The individual learner's needs are considered in the assessment process. Where appropriate, reasonable adjustments are applied by TIC to take into account the individual learner's needs.
  - TIC informs the learner about the assessment process, and provides the learner with the opportunity to challenge the result of the assessment and be reassessed if necessary.
- Flexibility Assessment is flexible to the individual learner by:
  - reflecting the learner's needs;
  - assessing competencies held by the learner no matter how or where they have been acquired;
  - drawing from a range of assessment methods and using those that are appropriate to the context, the unit of competency and associated assessment requirements, and the individual.
- Validity Any assessment decision of TIC is justified, based on the evidence of performance of the individual learner.
  - Validity requires:
    - Assessment against the unit/s of competency and the associated assessment requirements covers the broad range of skills and knowledge that are essential to competent performance;
    - Assessment of knowledge and skills is integrated with their practical application;

Policy and Procedure

- Assessment to be based on evidence that demonstrates that a learner could demonstrate these skills and knowledge in other similar situations; and
- A judgement of competence is based on evidence of learner performance that is aligned to the unit/s of competency and associated assessment requirements.
- Reliability Evidence presented for assessment is consistently interpreted and assessment results are comparable irrespective of the assessor conducting the assessment.

Reasonable adjustment means a measure or action taken to assist a student who is disadvantaged in some manner to participate in education and training on the same basis as other students. Reasonable is to consider the needs of everyone involved which includes the student, other students, trainers and assessors, and TIC.

Rules of Evidence from the Standards for RTO's 2015 - Table 1.8-2: Rules of Evidence .

- Validity The assessor is assured that the learner has the skills, knowledge and attributes as described in the module or unit of competency and associated assessment requirements.
- Sufficiency The assessor is assured that the quality, quantity and relevance of the assessment evidence enables a judgement to be made of a learner's competency.
- Authenticity The assessor is assured that the evidence presented for assessment is the learner's own work.
- Currency The assessor is assured that the assessment evidence demonstrates current competency. This requires the assessment evidence to be from the present or the very recent past.

Summative Assessment is cumulative evaluation of achievement of the Training outcome. Often conducted in the workplace or a simulated workplace (depending on the qualification/unit of competency), summative assessment confirms achievement of the competency requirements have been met for the unit. Some examples of standard summative assessments are demonstrations, knowledge based tests and practical placements.

Training and Assessment Strategy (TAS) is documented framework to guide and structure assessment arrangements for a VET qualification.

Training Package - A training package is a set of nationally endorsed standards and qualifications for recognising and assessing people's skills in a specific industry, industry sector or enterprise.
